are Also Killed.

BOMB HURLED FROM ROOFTOP

Mangled Bodies Are Hurling In Every Direction as Newly-Appointed Military Governor of Canton Crosses Gangplank Upon Arrival at Scene of His Labors—San Francisco Chinese Get News of Battle in Which Thousands of Imperials Meet Death.

Shanghai, Oct. 26.—The newly-appointed military governor of Canton, General Feng Shan, was blown up by a bomb. Messages differ as to the number killed in the explosion, but latest reports say that his wife and 30 soldiers who accompanied them were blown to pieces.

General Feng was chosen for the Canton post as successor to General Cung, who was assassinated last spring. General Feng and his wife, with their military escort, were just leaving their steamboat at Canton when attacked. As they were crossing the gangplank the bomb was tossed from the roof of a house overlooking the wharf. It exploded with a terrific report, hurling mangled bodies in every direction.

THOUSANDS KILLED

Imperial Army Attempts to Force Pass Held by Rebels.

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—Dispatches received by local Chinese newspapers tell of a great battle in which the imperial army suffered heavy losses at the hands of the insurgents.

General Yin Tehang, at the head of 21,000 imperial troops, with 170 guns, attempted to force the mountain pass on the railroad dividing Hupeh and Honan provinces, and was repulsed with great slaughter. The hills in the vicinity of the pass had been crowned with artillery under the direction of Li Yuen Hung, commander of the revolutionists. The execution of the guns firing shrapnel was fearful as the imperial troops entered the pass. In addition, the troops of the revolutionists lay in ambush on the route followed by the imperial army in their retreat from the pass.

The imperial general ordered the retreat, and under cover of his heavy guns succeeded in drawing off part of his army, although thousands were left dead on the field, and thousands threw down their arms and welcomed the rebels. The republican army, which was less than 15,000 before the battle, now numbers close to 20,000 men.

This decisive battle now clears the way for the rebel march on Peking, as remnants of the imperial army, which is now entrenched at Wu Sing, will not be able to oppose the advance of the republicans.

Novel Bicycle Ambulance Will Be Used by English Boy Scouts

A ambulance that can be attached as a trailer to an ordinary bicycle has been invented by Wallace Pect, commander of a division of boy scouts at Birmingham, England. The ambulance consists of a stretcher mounted on two light wheels. It is pulled by one rider mounted on the bicycle in front, though there are handles at the sides that will permit other riders to assist. There are springs under the front end of the stretcher which will absorb all vibration. A universal joint attaches the ambulance to the bicycle so that, no matter what happens to the rider, the ambulance can not tip sideways. Over rough country the ambulance may be detached from the bicycle and be propelled by hand or the stretcher may be removed and carried as an ordinary hand stretcher. London experts have declared the device to be the most practical yet devised, as it can turn in its own length. General Sir Robert Baden-Powell has inspected the machine, and he says he considers it a most useful vehicle in case of war. He is the head of the boy scouts of England and will recommend that the ambulance be adopted as a part of the field equipment of the scouts. It has already been used as an emergency stretcher in transporting injured jockeys at English race tracks. The lower picture shows a new device by which an invalid confined to his bed can get the benefits of the exercise of walking without using his muscles as the machine does the work.

GRAND JURY TO NOW HEAR THE EVIDENCE

Special Venire Exhausted In Trial

Work of Securing McNamara Jury
In Infancy.

Los Angeles Cal., Oct. 26.—Efforts to obtain talesmen satisfactory to both sides in the case of James B. McNamara, indicted for murder in connection with the explosion of the Times building here, continued under the multifarious customs of counsel.

With not a single man left of the original panel of 125 veniremen, a new panel ready to be called and hardly a juror agreed upon as entirely satisfactory to either side, the chances for an examination of possibly 3,000 or more veniremen before the jury finally is chosen, was generally regarded in the light of development as quite possible. In one California case no less than 3,100 veniremen were called.

Boston, Oct. 26.—The grand jury convened this morning to consider such evidence as the police have gathered with a view to convicting Rev. C. V. T. Richeson of the murder of Avis Linnell, the pretty Hyannis music student, who died from the effects of cyanide of potassium one week ago Saturday. The police and district attorney's office are busy preparing the government's case, but some detectives are at work on various lines of investigation in connection with the charge that the clergyman killed the young woman. Richeson's father went to see his son, re-

WRIGHTS WILL SOON BEAT THE BIRDS

Orville Wright Says Man Has Flying Instinct.

Manteo, N. C., Oct. 26.—The Wright party was out and at work early after their record-breaking flights of the preceding day. The machine was taken to Hill 13, where Alex Ogilvie, the English aviator, made four glides, but did not remain aloft longer than one minute at any one time. The machine was then taken to Kill Devil and Orville attempted to break his record, but after one or two attempts gave it up, saying the wind was too light.

Mr. Wright said that he was well pleased with his experiments. Thus far he has demonstrated far beyond his expectations that the new type of biplane is far more efficient than any craft which has been built. This means that it is more perfect in every detail and its control is highly successful. He has also arrived at the conclusion that the bird instinct is dominant in man and can be developed so that the human being can fly even better than birds.

Meets Death In Auto Wreck

Samuel Butler, Glidden Tourist,
Struck by Hub of Wheel.

Tifton, Ga., Oct. 26.—S. M. Butler of New York city was instantly killed near here when the automobile which he was driving in the Glidden tour overturned. The accident was caused by a break in the steering gear. The car was wrecked and Mr. Butler was instantly killed when he was crushed by the wheel hub. Referee P. J. Walker's injuries are believed to be serious. Mrs. Walker's arm was broken. The injured were carried to a Tifton hospital.

Butler was chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile association. Walker is the referee of the Glidden tour now in progress.

Higher Rates Barred.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Proposed increases in the freight rates on cream and condensed milk from the dairy districts of Ohio and Indiana, eastward to Pittsburgh, were held by the interstate commerce commission to be unreasonable.

BLUSH AT SIGHT OF WOMAN'S ARMS

Delegates Force Purity Congress
Secretary to Change Dress.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—Because they considered her modish gowns immodest, a certain faction among the delegates to the American purity congress forced Mrs. Minnie I. Skinner of Cedar Rapids, Ia., recording secretary, to lay aside her gown and garb herself in a plain black skirt with an equally quiet and unassuming shirtwaist of white with a few conservative lines of pale blue in it. She was permitted to select the shirtwaist.

Letters and personal requests were responsible for the change in dress. One woman delegate said that she and others objected to the gown their secretary wore on the opening night of the convention because the sleeves showed her arms. The sleeves were three-quarter length. Another saw nothing holy in a small lace-yoke, which was part of the gown.

Re-electing B. S. Steadwell of La Crosse, Wis., president; raising money to place the name of Carrie Nation at the head of a memorial membership list and continuing discussions of public and private vice, the federation held three sessions.

Visits Columbus Tenderloin.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—John B. Hammond, a leader in the anti-vice movement at Des Moines, Ia., who is attending the American purity congress here, made a tour of the tenderloin district in company with policemen. He makes similar tours in all the cities he visits. Because of the possibility of his conclusions having an effect upon the pending municipal campaign here, he refused to give out his conclusions.

Delving Into Past History Of Woman

Coroner Seeks Light on Knabe
Murder Mystery.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—Baffled in their efforts to secure even a slight clew in the death mystery of Dr. Helene Knabe, former state pathologist of Indiana, the Indianapolis police worked on the theory of revenge as the only possible solution of the mystery.

Coroner Durnham announced, after a complete examination, that the body of the dead physician showed no evidence of criminal assault. He scouts a suicide theory, however, and considers that the evidence that Dr. Knabe was murdered is conclusive. None of the woman's jewels or valuables have been found missing, according to the police. The police are now seeking out the life history of the dead woman in an effort to ascertain any enemies that she may have had. No hint of any love affair has yet been secured, and so far as police have been able to ascertain no men were calling on the woman. Practically all of her male acquaintances were among the physicians of the city.

Go Wild When Giants Defeat
Hated Athletics.

MARQUARD DRIVEN FROM BOX

American Leaguers Make Three Runs in Third Inning and Championship Looked Like Cinch Until Nationals Tied Score in Ninth and Won Out in Tenth Period—If Luck
Follows New Yorkers Today, Deciding Game Will Be on Saturday.

New York, Oct. 26.—No one was more surprised when the Giants defeated the Athletics in the fifth game of the world's championship series than the members of the National league team, the victory by a score of 4 to 3 coming like a lightning bolt out of a clear sky.

It was the New York team's second triumph in the series for the world's championship, the Quakers already having captured three contests. This unexpected success, therefore, gives the New Yorkers a fighting chance, for if they win in Philadelphia today the deciding game will be played in this city Saturday, the New York club having won the toss for grounds in case a seventh game is necessary to decide the championship.

The Giants won by the pluckiest kind of up-hill work which bristled with hard and timely hitting in the ninth and tenth innings. Up to that point defeat for McGraw's men seemed inevitable and more than 33,000 persons were convinced of the fact, when suddenly the New Yorkers exploded a bomb which created one of the wildest scenes ever recorded in baseball history.

Doyle Started Trouble.

An error by Larry Doyle was the forerunner of the visitors' three runs in the third inning. Without this misplay the visitors would have been blanked in that period. But subsequently, with two men on bases, Oldring broke the heart of Marquard by driving a terrific hit far into the left field bleachers for a home run, scoring Lapp and Coombs ahead of him. This disaster forced the retirement of Marquard and plunged the crowd into deepest gloom, for Jack Coombs meanwhile was in magnificent form and pitched the cleverest kind of ball for six consecutive innings.

Succeeding Marquard, Red Ames also pitched superbly during the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings, the Athletics making but two hits and falling easy victims to his change of pace. An error by Collins enabled the Giants to make their first run in the last half of the seventh, in which Crandall was sent in to hit for Ames, and then assuming the task in the box, Crandall furnished another agreeable surprise by holding the Mackmen harmless for the rest of the battle. Incidentally Crandall covered himself with glory when he hammered out a great two-bagger in the ninth inning which sent Herzog, who had also doubled, across the plate.

Two were out at the time and Coombs confidently expected to dispose of Devore, the next batter. But Josh, who had been rather weak with the stick in his previous appearances at the plate, smashed a red-hot single to left, which sent Crandall home with the tying run.

Redeems Himself.

Doyle redeemed himself in the last half of the tenth inning by finding Plank, who had succeeded Coombs, for his fourth safe hit, a rattling two-bagger to left. He scooted to third when Plank fielded Snodgrass' bunt a second too late to shut him off. Murray followed with a short fly to Murphy, upon which Doyle did not attempt to go home, but Merkle lined the ball close to the foul line in front of the right wing of the grandstand and when Murphy caught it Doyle sprinted across the plate with the deciding run.

LOCAL GAS COMPANY SUBJECT TO INVESTIGATION BY THE UTILITIES BOARD

A movement that may possibly result in a re-arrangement of the schedule of prices in Washington of the local Gas and Electric company, was made public Wednesday in the following special dispatch sent out from Columbus:

"Taking the initiative the Public Service Commission issued notice upon the Washington Gas and Electric Company, supplying gas to Washington C. H. and Bloomingburg, that it will investigate the reasonableness of the charges of that company. The schedule of rates and charges filed by the company shows that it gets 45 cents a thousand for gas, and a minimum monthly charge of 75 cents from each consumer. The secretary of the company has advised the commission that the charges are authorized by ordinance of the two municipalities. The commission thinks the charges high in comparison to other places in the state. If it finds the charges authorized by ordinance it can do nothing unless upon complaint of citizens and consumers, but if there is no ordinance the commission can reduce the rate if it is found to be excessive."

The above dispatch would indicate that the Public Service Commission means business, and will make a thorough investigation of the rates here.

The charge as above mentioned is authorized by ordinance passed some eighteen months ago.

Inasmuch as the Service Commission seems to be of the opinion that the rate is too high as compared with rates throughout the state, and as probably consumers are of the same opinion, some action may eventually result which will have a tendency to bring the rate down regardless of the action of the present council in accepting 40c and 45c gas when other cities are securing it for less.

The company's schedule of prices for gas is as follows:

Prices for natural gas in Washington C. H., Ohio:

To become effective December 1, 1911. First 8000 cubic feet, 45c per 1000 cubic feet. Next 10,000 cubic feet, 40c per 1000 cubic feet. All over 18,000 cubic feet, 35c per 1000 cubic feet.

A discount of 5c per 1000 cubic feet will be given on each of the above schedules, where bills do not amount to or exceed 75c and when paid by the 10th of each month, for gas consumed the preceding month.

Dated Monday, October 23, 1911.

Prices for natural gas in Bloomingburg, Ohio:

To become effective December 1, 1911.

First 8000 cubic feet, 45c per 1000 cubic feet. Next 10,000 cubic feet, 40c per 1000 cubic feet. All over 18,000 cubic feet, 35c per 1000 cubic feet.

A discount of 5c per 1000 cubic feet will be given on each of the above schedules, where bills do not amount to or exceed 75c and when paid by the 10th of each month for gas consumed the preceding month.

Dated Monday, October 23, 1911.

District Meeting Chillicothe Presbyterial

The annual district meeting of Chillicothe Presbyterial was held in the Presbyterian church of this city Wednesday.

Representatives of the Ladies' Missionary Societies of Wilmington and Bloomingburg, as well as the local one were in attendance, with a goodly number of outside guests, especially in the afternoon.

Both morning and afternoon sessions were full of interest and inspiration for the work of missions.

Mrs. G. M. Ustick presided as Presbyterial vice president; Mrs. W. B. Woodward, secretary, gave the report from the last district meeting and Mesdames Morgan, Jefferson and Irvin on "The Society's Work."

The Synodical report was made by Mrs. Frank M. Fullerton in the absence of Mrs. Samuel Steel.

Mrs. J. L. Tait, Synodical president, made a fine address on Home Missions. Vivality interested in the work and with wonderful command of language, Mrs. Tait emphasized the duty of American women towards the mountaineer, the Mormon and the emigrant. She dwelt on the forlorn condition of emigrants stranded on Ellis Island and the mission work in the city slums.

Mrs. A. S. Kaye, president of the Presbyterial, presented the practical side of young people's work and its crying needs.

A much enjoyed feature of the morning was a soprano solo by Mrs. T. H. Candor, of Bogota, S. A.

The luncheon hour was one of social pleasure, the entertaining committee of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the local Presbyterian church, Mrs. Hibben Ervin, chairman; Mrs. J. M. Willis and Mrs. A. M. Bush, assisted by a number of young ladies, serving an appetizing two-course luncheon in the church dining room. The tables were arranged to form a maltese cross, with pink and white cosmos in decoration and looked very pretty.

The leading address of the afternoon was by Mrs. T. H. Candor, of Bogota, S. A., a very attractive speaker and the society's own missionary.

Mrs. Candor answered the question as to why the Gospel was needed in South America and enlarged on the open doors through which the ignorance and superstition might be reached.

Mrs. Candor was the only American woman who remained in Bogota through the riotous boycott that became history. She has been at the head of the girl's school, which, as she laughingly expressed it, is a combination of an old ladies' home, a Y. W. C. A., a missionary school and home for young girls and babies.

Mrs. Candor regretted Columbia's action and bitter feeling towards the United States. Since Columbia refused the United States offer of $10,000,000 for Panama, and that country said if it did not sign the treaty, it would separate, and proceeded to do so, without a drop of bloodshed, Columbia has showed her animosity to our country frequently.

Mrs. Candor sang again, a beautiful Spanish song.

Mrs. Kaye again talked briefly on the plan of doubling membership as suggested by Synod and Mrs. Tait made a short talk, and took part in a general discussion.

Mrs. Mary Goldsberry Burgett contributed a lovely contralto solo to the program.

The meeting was felt to be of decided benefit to the district.

AVERTS AWFUL TRAGEDY.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Wiloughby, of Marengo, Wis. (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

IS THE WORLD GROWING BETTER?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see, 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

$1000 Purse Race Attracts Local Men

A great many Washington people went to Jamestown Thursday attending the Horse Journal Futurity race for three-year-old trotters, which took place there on that day, and in which the purse was $1,000, the largest purse ever offered in this part of Ohio.

Scores went from Fayette county and this city in particular, many going by train, but still more going in automobiles.

There are 37 colts eligible to enter the race, including the $10,000 colt, Burt Axworthy. There were three other races in addition to the futurity race.

Fuel is to be considered in selecting stoves for heating your house and cheap stoves consume too much. The catalogue houses and country stove peddlers are constantly soliciting stove manufacturers to make them cheap stoves, and those dealers who are responsible, guarantee nothing, except that you put up your money before you can see what you have paid for. The others will guarantee anything, and especially that they will be gone when you discover what you bought. Don't be an easy mark for men of this type, but buy stoves that you can examine and select from stock guaranteed by your local dealers. ## Ohio is Second In Number of Autos

Ohio is second among the states in the Union in number of automobiles, according to State Registrar Shearer. In the report for licenses up to October 1, the Buckeye state nosed Pennsylvania out with a majority of 2000. New York leads with upward of 80,000 licenses for the year. Ohio has 45,421, against 43,074 for Pennsylvania.

Even Kansas, where every farmer is supposed to own half a dozen machines, doesn't come up to Ohio.

Marriageable Ages Same in Highland

Down in Highland county the Hillsboro Dispatch has compiled a few figures on the averages of the last 25 couples married in that county, and claims that the average is the same as that in this county—27 1-2 for the bridegrooms, and 23 for the brides.

The average being the same as that of this county, is very remarkable indeed.

A Bumper Crop Apples in Ross

Ross county's bumper crop of apples is now being harvested and it is pronounced to be the best, both in quality and quantity, grown in thirty years. The yield for the entire county is estimated between 25,000 and 40,000 barrels, about 25 per cent. of which were summer and fall varieties which have already been marketed.

Packing and shipping the winter fruit will be actively under way in a week or ten days. To date only one big sale of fruit has been reported, J. M. McCoach & Co., having bought the 4,000 barrel crop of Grimes Golden and Ben Davis of L. B. Yapple, proprietor of the Avolin Fruit farm. The sale was put through early in the season and it is said was made on a basis of $3 for No. 1 Grimes, $2.50 for No. 1 Bens and $1 less for No. 2s. A few offers have been made recently ranging from $2 to $2.50 for No. 1 fruit, but the growers are refusing to sell and it is likely a big percentage of the winter fruit will be stored by growers. A few have already made arrangements for space in one or two big cold storage warehouses.

Wrecker Wrecked On Way to Wreck

The B. & O. S. W. wreck train was wrecked for the second time in its history this week near Chillicothe Wednesday. The morning east-bound freight on the main line was wrecked near Coolville, a number of cars leaving the rails when a journal burned off.

The wreck blocked the main track and a hurry-up call was sent in for the wreck train and crew. The train left Chillicothe immediately and when near Byers station the entire train was derailed, the big steam crane turning turtle.

A number of the crew had narrow escapes, but no one was seriously injured.

FAMILY UNDER QUARANTINE

IGNORE ALL ORDERS

MERRY MIXUP RESULTS

An incident of interest and importance occurred Wednesday when Health Officer Howell fumigated the residence of Jim Rose, colored, in the English addition, where the family had been suffering from a contagious disease.

The Rose residence was quarantined some ten days ago by Health Officer Howell, and some one not familiar with the law removed the quarantine card, and the family mingled with their neighbors and the children attended school at the school house north of the city. Since that time another case of the disease comes to light, one of the children evidently contracting it from the Rose children.

When the affair came under the observation of Health Officer Howell, he went to the Rose residence, and it is said received a severe going over by Mrs. Rose. The woman was called before Mayor Allen and severely reprimanded for allowing the children to attend school, and for mingling with the neighbors. She resented the reprimand and was informed that if she ever ignored a quarantine in the future, she would receive the heaviest penalty allowed by law.

The Health Officer alone has power to post quarantine notices and to remove them, it seems, and the penalty for removing a card is a heavy one.

ANOTHER TRACTION LINE

MORE NEWS

IS COMING THIS WAY

Another traction line is headed this way—may be. It is not a new one, but just an old one which has bobbed up so often that every time it comes to the front again Washington citizens hear of it with a knowing smile and wink.

The following story, coming direct from Cincinnati, is quoted for what it is worth:

B. H. Kroger, president and general manager of the Cincinnati, Milford and Loveland Traction Company, with a party of eastern bankers, made a trip in an auto from Blanchester, the present terminus of the road, to Washington C. H., Ohio, via Wilmington, to study the situation with a view to extending the road to Washington C. H. Washington C. H. is 36 miles from Blanchester, which is 40 miles from Cincinnati.

The extension of the road to Washington C. H. will be another long stride toward the real object of the line—Columbus. When the route is completed to Columbus it will be an air line between this city and the capital of the state.

Beyond admitting that he made the trip, President Kroger declined to make any statement.

August Biedenbender, the general supt., has tendered his resignation to President Kroger, and Mr. Kroger, together with Charles Peurung, the auditor, will operate the property until a successor to Biedenbender is appointed. The retirement of Superintendent Biedenbender is said to have followed a disagreement with President Kroger over the arrangement of schedules.

Auto Takes Ditch; Occupants Escape

While Richard Ramsay and H. E. Devaney were out riding in the Ramsay racer late Wednesday night, and while making a turn on the Chillicothe pike south of this city, the auto took the ditch and almost turned turtle.

The machine was only slightly damaged, and both occupants escaped being injured. The machine was going at a rapid rate of speed when it left the road. It was brought to the Gossard garage for repairs.

Deputy State Sealer Appointed

Henry Jones, groceryman and postmaster of Milledgeville, has been appointed Deputy State Sealer of Weights and Measures for Fayette county, under the new law which went into effect last summer, and which provides that each county shall have a sealer whose duty it is to see that all weights and measures throughout the county conform with the regulations of the State Sealer.

Mr. Jones will soon be ready for work, and will probably inspect all weights and measures now in use by merchants and dealers throughout the county.

In Springfield a few days ago a number of the largest dealers were arrested because their scales showed light weights. Just what the salary is attached to the job has not been announced. County Auditor Henkle made the appointment, being authorized to do so under the law.

THE MIDDLEMAN.

One of the greatest movements in the world of commerce, a "reform" still in its infancy and revolutionary in character and scope is the attempt of producers to combine.

It cannot be denied that this movement is now well started and has for its aim the elimination of the middleman.

Strange to say, too, the consumers have begun a movement in the nature of a consolidation, which has the same aim as the combination of producers.

Farmers all over the land are taking steps looking to a consolidation of interests which will enable them to sell directly to the consumers and the latter are organizing with a view to purchasing directly from the former.

Much impetus is given to both movements by the wide margin existing between the price paid the producer and the price charged the consumer.

This margin represents the middle-man's profit and the numerous probes recently inserted into existing conditions have demonstrated that the middleman in this country is no longer a necessity. If he serves any purpose now he is a high-priced luxury which can be well spared in the machinery of commerce.

On all sides it seems agreed that the margin between producer's price and consumer's price is entirely to great.

Time was in this country when the means of communication and transportation of goods was not as rapid as it is in these days, that the middleman was an actual necessity, but that time has passed.

We have outgrown the middleman and from present indications it will not be long until he must pack his kit and seek other fields of labor.

The producing class and the consuming class have grown wonderfully in intelligence during the last quarter of a century and the means of transportation have improved to such an extent that distance is no longer existant, so why the middleman. The producer and consumer will be able ere long, it seems to transact there own business without the aid of the costly go-between.

NOT A REFORMER.

I haven't any time to tell
My neighbor how to run his shop,
For all I know he's doing well.
To ask him though I shall not stop.
I take for granted that he knows
Just what his business venture needs;
And from the way my garden grows,
It keeps me busy cutting weeds.

If I should pause to tell him how
I ought to run his own affairs,
My little wheat field I allow
Would very soon be full of tares.
I find it's all that I can do
To keep my own front porch swept clean,
And I must hustle all day through
To keep myself from getting mean.

When I have stacked up all the wood
That in this life I'll ever need,
When I have made myself so good,
That I am free from hate and greed
When I've no beam in either eye,
I may have time to journey then
Around the neighborhood and try
To purify my fellow-men.
—Edgar A. Guest in Detroit Free Press.

Grand Jury Now to Hear The Evidence

maining in the jail an hour. The old man was visibly affected.

According to a statement issued by District Attorney Pelletier, a search of the casket containing the body of Avis Linnell failed to reveal anything in which she could have conveyed the poison to the Young Woman's Christian association bathroom. This disposes of theory that the container might have been left in the bathrobe when it was placed in the coffin. Some of the vital organs were retained by Medical Examiner Leary and the body was reshipped to Hyannis, where it was placed in the grave from which it was taken.

Judge a Trifle Late.

Some hours after the medical examiner had completed his task and the body was back in Hyannis, Judge Murray of the municipal court made known his decision on the motion put in by Richeson's counsel that the defense be represented by counsel and medical experts at the examination of the body of Miss Linnell. Judge Murray denied the motion on the ground that he had no jurisdiction, and he added that if he had jurisdiction he would deny the motion anyway, in the present state of the case.

Denial was made that the midnight examination was arranged with a view of forestalling the action of Richeson's lawyer, and is explained by the statement that the unusual hour was fixed upon for the purpose of preventing the assembling of a crowd of curious people.

There is some talk about Richeson's counsel endeavoring to have the body exhumed once more, but it is understood that the Linnell family are prepared to put up a stiff legal contest with a view of preventing, if possible, the further disturbance of the grave of the unfortunate young woman.

Rev. Richeson has told numerous friends who have called at the jail that his engagement to Avis Linnell was broken at the request of the young woman, who told him she preferred a career on the operatic stage to life as the wife of a country pastor.

Defends Slayer of Husband.
Canton, O., Oct. 26.—"Virgil did not wrong me, but my husband was jealous and so I began suit for divorce," testified Mrs. Faber G. Elder in the trial of Virgil Robert, 19, for the murder of her husband last April. And then she stated that Robert shot Elder in self-defense. At the time of the killing Elder and his wife had separated. The husband found Robert with Mrs. Elder, took him to task for his attentions and was shot and killed, Robert being arrested for the slaying.

Palatial Home Attached.

Lima, O., Oct. 26.—The house is securely locked while a sheriff's writ of attachment is posted on the door of the palatial home of John W. Van Dyke, millionaire director of the Standard Oil company here. VanDyke was made defendant in a suit instituted here by John B. Kerr. Kerr claims that he paid $2,574.21 too much for VanDyke's interest in an oil lease owing to a bookkeeper's error.

Woman Gets Heavy Sentence.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—Three years in the penitentiary is the punishment meted out to Dr. Kathryn Wray, who was found guilty of performing an illegal operation. In passing sentence Judge Bigser said that the punishment was rather heavy, but that a precedent would have to be established to break up the practice.

Dancing Master Ends Life.

Akron, O., Oct. 26.—Although information was given out by relatives to the effect that Wilbur F. Stickle, for 36 years an Akron dancing master, had been found dead in bed, it develops that he was a victim of suicide. Stickle sent one bullet through his head and another through his heart, dying instantly.

Missing Girl Located.

Lima, O., Oct. 26.—Palmetto Perkins, 19, who left home rather than marry Sydney Tyson of Detroit, has been located in her birthplace in Kentucky. The girl's foster mother, Mrs. F. H. Shores, has called off the intended marriage and expects that Palmetto will return. Tyson has returned to Detroit.

Charged With Assaulting Daughter.

Sidney, O., Oct. 26.—L. W. Jacobs of Wapakoneta was arrested here, charged with mistreating his daughter Nola, 18. His capture was due to the quick wit of Josephine Voche, a telephone operator, who knew of the crime and recognized his voice when he tried to communicate with Wapakoneta friends.

Diehl Found Guilty.

Newark, O., Oct. 26.—The jury in the Walter Diehl murder case returned a verdict of second degree murder after being out four hours. Diehl, a B. & O. railway mechanic, was charged with complicity in the Etherington lynching.

Glass Factory Burned.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—Fire here gutted the six-story plant of the Pittsburg Plateglass company, causing a loss of $50,000, most of which is covered by insurance. The fire started from an explosion of oil used in mixing paints.

Starts on Kentucky Tour.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—Governor Harmon will leave tonight for a speaking tour of Kentucky under the auspices of the Democratic state committee.

Suicide Uses Paris Green.

Chillicothe, O., Oct. 26.—John Tweed of Vigo committed suicide at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harley Thornton, south of this city, by taking a large dose of paris green.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do to ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Brown's Drug Store.

Q.—"And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. And it repented the Lord that He had made man on the earth, and it grieved Him at His heart; and the Lord said, I will destroy man whom I have created, from the face of the earth." If God is omniscient, knowing the end from the beginning, how could He repent of His course in creating man?

Answer.—The word "repent" means "To change the mind, or course of conduct, on account of regret or dissatisfaction with what has occurred." The question then is, Did God change His mind (plan) or His course of conduct? We claim that, knowing the end from the beginning, God's mind could not be changed; hence "repent" in this text must signify change of conduct. That is, God did change His course of dealing with man because of man's wickedness, which grieved Him, but He did not change His mind or plans, because these plans had from the very first recognized the corrupting and degrading tendency of sin, and provided (in purpose of mind) the Lamb of God—"slain from the foundation of the world"—as the redemption price. (Revelation xiii, 8; xvii, 8.)

Good Advice

Make Your Manager's Style Your Own

By MAUD BENEDICT

FIRST of all the stenographer who would show that she can manage the correspondence shouldn't make it too evident that she can improve on the manager's diction or give him pointers in grammar and management.

Managers usually believe in the efficiency of their own methods, and whoever will step on the toes where their little vanities are concerned isn't likely to be boosted.

The stenographer who is inclined to say all she thinks—to air her private opinions regarding what her chief does or doesn't do—is always in danger of spoiling her chances.

Silence is as great a virtue in an office as capable talk, and every one knows that the manager's little whims and predilections have as much to do with your promotion as your own honest efforts always to do the right things at the right time in the right place.

You must copy your manager in the beginning. You may sneer at the copy-cats and the self-satisfied imitators, but on the other hand strain your originality too much in the face of an old foggy manager and see what happens.

The new correspondent must be diplomatic. It ought to be easier for her to tickle the vanity of her chief than to outrage it, though personally she may despise people who are always rubbing you the right way for a purpose.

Make the manager's style your own. Acquire some of his phrases and peculiarities of expression, and you will be surprised to see how soon he will let you handle some of his letters independently. Knotty correspondence is always a bugbear to a harassed, hurried manager, and sometimes he is only too glad of the opportunity of giving over a portion to a reliable assistant. And if you rally with him in the beginning he is more likely to give your own methods a little leeway later on.

When you can once prove your knack at writing good, fetching business letters that do not clash with the head's own way of doing things, you are soon a factor in the office. By and by you can introduce those little original methods that would have rattled and roiled the boss before. At that point your chief is bound to consult your opinion in many things. Because of your steady contact with customers through the mail you may find out a thing or two about his business of which he is not aware. Instead of being only a servant you are also a co-operator.

When a letter involves a particularly knotty problem always consult your boss and recognize him as first authority in adjusting doubtful matters. But a good deal depends on your judgment in referring things to him that may rightly devolve on you. Don't fuss and haggle about trifles. The more readily and firmly you can make up your mind about a thing the more correspondence you can cover in a day, and it stands to reason that the more work you can put out in a day the more substantial your claims to a raise.

B. & O. IS NOW RECEIVING

NEW STEEL COACHES

VAST IMPROVEMENT OF FIRST CARS

The steel passenger coaches ordered by the Baltimore and Ohio several months ago are being delivered and placed in service on the through trains between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis. The orders provide for 20 smoking cars and 30 day coaches together with 15 steel postal cars and 10 steel baggage cars.

The new steel coaches have a seating capacity of 80 passengers and the smoking cars a capacity of 72 passengers. Steel passenger coaches are a late development and naturally each new out-put from the shops have many improvements and features not found in the earlier cars. The cars now being received by the B. & O. are considered superior to any steel cars which have yet been constructed. The objectionable features found in the earlier steel cars, such as susceptibility to heat and cold and the unusual noise of the metal have been eliminated in their construction.

The steel construction includes not only the steel frame-work and the trucks but the outside sheathing as well. The trucks are made of one-piece cast steel with steel wheels of inextinguishable strength. The floors are constructed of steel, over which is placed a layer of concrete to deaden the noise and to strengthen construction.

In all the fixtures and appliances every consideration is given to the comfort and health of occupants of the cars. The sanitary drinking water tank is another desirable special feature. The water and ice are in separate compartments, the water being forced into the tanks through pipes under the car, preventing employees from coming in contact with it. The ice is in a separate compartment also and does not touch the water, consequently the drinking tanks are as nearly sanitary as it is possible to make them.

The interior finish of the steel cars is worthy of special note. The ceiling and paneling below the windows are made of an imported fire proof composition which not only makes a fine finish but renders the interior of the car impervious to noise from the outside. This agasote presents the same strength and fire resistance as does steel, being even more desirable in that it has insulation qualities. The upper portions of the interior of the cars are of mahogany finish, giving them a rich and attractive appearance.

The cars are insulated throughout. The outside sheathing of steel is bolted to the steel frame, inside of which is the insulation material, with the mahogany finish above and the agasote below.

The smoking cars are 60 feet in length. The seats and backs are upholstered in plain heavy leather, a most desirable finish. The day coaches are 70 feet in length. The seats and backs of these cars are upholstered in plush and the color effects of mahogany and light green present a delightful harmony of colors.

All of these cars are equipped with electric lights and fans. They are considered the strongest, easiest riding and the most cheerful cars that have yet been built.

THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

MAKE PINK MONKEYS

OF ONCE PROUD GIANTS

Special to Herald.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 26.—The sixth and final game between the Giants and the Athletics for the baseball championship of the world, was played here today before an immense crowd, which fought its way into Shibe park.

The game was a complete rout for the Giants. Mack sent Bender to the mound and the Chipewas Indian held New York safe at all stages.

McGraw sent Ames into the box and he did well until the fourth when the hard-hitting Athletics pounded his curves and slants for four earned runs.

Wiltse was then substitute and pitched the fifth inning in good shape. In the 6th he weakened and was hit for one earned run.

In the seventh, the hard-hitting Athletics pounded Wiltse's offerings to all corners of the lot and before the fusillade of hits could be checked, seven fleet-footed men of the Mackerels had crossed the rubber.

Marquard was then substituted and the groggy Giants made a last game stand, succeeding only in checking the Athletics' terrific slugging.

With this victory goes the highest honor in baseball—champion of the world—and the big end of the receipts, amounting to about $3700 for each player.

The Giants made a feeble rally in the ninth, but only scored one run.

The score:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.

May Not Be All Moonshine

Investigation by the B. M. A. of George T. Alter, the traction promoter of Cincinnati, seems to indicate that the proposed traction line between this city and Washington C. H., is not as chimerical as was first supposed.

Mr. Alter is the son of Franklin Alter, president of the American Tool Works Co., and a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Cincinnati. His father-in-law is William Alms, president of the Alms & Doeppke Co. He was born and raised in Cincinnati, and as far as can be learned, is capable of putting a road through if the plans are feasible.

In answer to a letter of inquiry sent by the B. M. A., Mr. Alter stated that the first letter was sent here by mistake of his stenographer. He went into details a little further and also advocated the possibility of a traction line through Blanchester.

It is very probable that the Business Men's Association will call Mr. Alter here for a conference before the week is up. A joint meeting with the Business Men's Club of Washington C. H., also may be held.—Hillsboro Dispatch.

W. R. C. SOCIAL SESSION.

The October social session of W. R. C. was held at the residence of Mrs. Jerome Dick, E. Market street, Wednesday afternoon. The assistant hostesses, attired in white, were Mesdames Roberts, Campbell Johnson, Anderson, Propst, Pearce, Briggs and Robbins.

The house was appropriately decorated with autumn leaves and flowers. On the dining table was an artistic miniature camping place.

The contest was a novel one and showed much talent in the composition. It consisted of forty-four lines, using the members' names to fill in the blanks and rhyme with the preceding lines. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Patton won the prizes, beautiful pictures.

After the contest a delightful social hour was spent during which appetizing refreshments were served. Sixty ladies attended.

Mayor Allen's Platform

To The Citizens of Washington:

If re-elected to the office of Mayor of this City I will continue in the future, as in the past, to strictly and impartially enforce the law against—

Bootlegging, Gambling,
Immorality, Petty Thieving,
Night Prowling, Window Peeping
Loafing, Vagrancy,

and all other laws on the statute books, showing no partiality to anyone—be he white or black, rich or poor, and no matter what his standing.

The citizens of this city will also be protected against return of large number of "Undesirables" who have been guilty of the above named crimes.

It will be my constant endeavor to, at all times, work for the advancement and best interests of the city and welfare of her citizens.

If this platform meets with your approval your vote will be appreciated.

Respectfully, RELL G. ALLEN.

Billy Sunday Scores Big Hit In Springfield Winning By Big Totals

Never in her history has Springfield been so taken by storm as it has by Billy Sunday, the baseball evangelist, who has been holding meetings there for the past few weeks. Many from this city have been attending the sermons of this unusual man, but few realize to what extent the Billy Sunday meetings have grown, or the good accomplished. Springfield is undergoing a radical change in a great many ways. Playing cards litter the streets, where they have been thrown by zealous converts of Billy Sunday; theaters are playing to reduced houses; dances, including the aristocratic charity ball at New Years, have been called off; anti-swearing clubs and anti-spitting clubs are being formed in the factories. These are among the remarkable developments of the last two or three days. The most important social effect has been the cancelling of the annual charity ball, which has been given for the last dozen years by the Young Women's Mission, a society of girls in wealthy families. It has annually cleared about $300 and Mr. Sunday promptly offered to have a collection taken for it Friday evening. In the plant of a publishing company an anti-tobacco-chewing society has been formed and the members are given chewing gum by the superintendent every morning, on application. Those who do not join have the alternative of paying 25 cents each week for cleaning the cuspidors, or doing the work themselves. There are several factories where workmen have formed anti-swearing societies, paying so much into a treasury for church purposes for every oath uttered. A remarkable feature of the meetings is the large number of professional men and men of wealth who are interested. Judges of the courts, manufacturers, physicians and attorneys are among the converts.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of Daily Herald:
In order to give those interested in the annexed territory to this city, the true situation with reference to additional electric lights and water plugs for said territory, I desire to make the following statement of facts:
On the 9th day of June, 1910, less than two months after the new territory was annexed to the city, the annual budget of expenses for the year 1910-1911 was filed by me with the City Council.
(See Council Record, page 365.)
In said budget was the following recommendation:
"In the Service Department I ask that the levy be made so as to include ten extra electric lights and ten extra water plugs. These should be distributed principally throughout the new territory recently annexed to the city. It was held out to the citizens of the annexed territory, at the time of the matter of the annexation was for hearing before the City Council and the County Commissioners, that in consideration of their becoming a part of the city and helping to make the city show a large population in the Federal Census, just taken, that said annexed territory would have the advantage of, among other things, city water, electric lights and fire protection. I believe the obligation rests with the city to give the citizens of these new districts, what they were given to understand, they would receive.
Said budget was referred to a committee consisting of F. M. Rothrock, D. T. Veail and Os McLellan, and their report dated July 12th, 1910, was filed with Council as of that date. (See Council Record 6, page 381.)
The report of said committee to Council shows that no action was recommended by it on the light and water question, notwithstanding the fact that the Tax Commission of this city, composed of Robert Howat, David S. Craig, H. C. Anthony and R. C. Peddicord recommended a tax levy to cover same in a communication to Council under date of July 28, 1910.
(The reports of the committee of Council and the Tax Commission should be on file with the clerk of Council, Mr. Flynn.)
On the 2nd day of January, 1911, a communication was filed by me with council, a part of which communication is as follows, to wit:
"Council's attention is again called to the matter of furnishing electric lights and water plugs, to the annexed territory of the city composed of Millwood, Elmwood and English Additions and also other places in the city.
Besides the reasons stated in my Annual Budget given you June 9th, 1910, the residents of these districts should have light and water, if for no other reason, except that of protection against fire."
Council Record 6, Page 412 of date of January 2, 1911 shows:
"Mayor's communication read to Council. Accepted by Council."
February 6th, 1911, at a meeting of Council the light fund was increased in the sum of $300 which meant five additional electric lights.
The motion voted on to increase the light fund was as follows:
Yes—Goodwin, Smith, Veail, Hopkins.
No—McClellan, Rothrock.
See Council record 6, page 416.
By order of Council, none of these lights were ordered placed in the annexed territory. See Council Record 6, pages 421 and 422.
On the 4th day of May, 1911, the Annual Budget of Expenses for the year 1911-1912 was filed by me with the City Council. The part thereof referring to the water and light question being as follows, to wit:
"Your attention is again called to the necessity of extra electric lights and water service for the annexed territory of this city. It is impossible to properly protect the property against fire without them. Within the past year the fire department has been called to these districts, and has been unable to give good service, because the drivers were driving in the dark and after locating the fire were compelled to lay hose several squares to a water plug. The Stove factory and Handle factory are practically without fire protection, there being but one water plug close, that being small, and being the private property of the Stove factory. The people who invest their money in enterprises in the city should at least be given adequate protection by the city against fire."
June 12th, 1911. "Mayor's budget read to Council. Referred to Ways and Means Committee."
See Council Record 6, page 442.
Said committee is composed of Os McLellan, Frank M. Rothrock and D. T. Veail.
The Council records show no action taken by said committee.
July 3rd, 1911, there was filed by me with Council, an estimate of the amount of money necessary for the expenses of the city for the last half of the year 1911, and "Same was referred to Finance Committee for investigation."
See Council Record 6, page 446.
In said estimate of expenses is the following:
"If Council wishes to contract for additional lights and water plugs, or desires to furnish better equipment to the fire department or make any repairs on the Library building, the amounts above mentioned will have to be increased, so as to cover same."
July 13th, 1911. Meeting of Council. No report by the Finance committee. See Journal 6, page 448.
On August 7th, 1911, the Finance Committee filed its report, of which the following is a copy:
August 7th, 1911.
"To the Hon. Council:
The Finance Committee of Council have examined the different amounts as submitted by Mayor Allen for the appropriation ordinance for the last half of 1911, and we direct that the street lighting be increased from $3550.50 to $3769.00 which will provide nine (9) new electric lights for the annexed territory; arrangements can be made for (the same) incandescent lights which will greatly increase this number if the Service Director thinks best.
We have increased the water rent for fire protection from $2815 to $2995, which will allow for twelve (12) new fire plugs for the annexed territory. We direct that the Service Director take immediate steps to arrange for these lights and fire plugs. We also direct that the Library allowance be increased from $775.00 to $1100.50 which will allow $325.50 for repairs, on the regular half year allowance. These increases in the light, water and library department have been made up by reductions, as otherwise directed, which will leave the grand total as directed by the Mayor.
OS. MCLELLAN, Chr.
D. T. VEAIL.
F. M. ROTHROCK.
Fin. Com. of Council.
See Council Record 6, page 450.
The report was accepted by Council. See Council record 6, page 451.
August 7th, 1911. Council passed the necessary appropriation ordinance. See Council Record 6, page 451.
On October 10th, 1911, the following communication was addressed by me to H. M. Rankin, city solicitor:
"Can the Service Director legally make arrangements with the Electric Light Company and the Water Company, to install the lights and water plugs asked for by the Mayor on July 3rd, 1911, and reported on by the Committee of Council on August 7th, 1911, without further action of Council?"
In reply, Mr. Rankin, after stating what action Council had taken and the law on the subject, says:
"If this is all the action that has been taken by Council of course the Director of Public Service has no authority to enter into a contract. The report of the committee cannot be construed to mean the action of Council. If Council desires to act favorably on this report they have the authority to pass a resolution or ordinance directing the Director of Public Service to enter into a contract for whatever new lights and water plugs they desire. Sections 3616 and 4224 of the General Code of Ohio expressly provide that this must be done by ordinance or resolution and that a ye and nay vote be taken and entered on the Journal. The report of the committee shows that two systems of lights are contemplated, that is the arc light as now used and the incandescent, which has not been used here for the street lighting. The prices to be paid for the incandescent light would have to be fixed by Council in case they are installed, which has not been heretofore done. The placing of the lights is also a matter resting with Council to be decided upon by them.
It is my opinion from the law above quoted that the Council must, by ordinance or resolution, direct the director of public service to enter into the contract for the new lights and water plugs before he will have power to act in the matter. This is the manner in which such contracts have heretofore been made and the law on subject has not been changed.
Respectfully,
H. M. RANKIN,
City Solicitor."
For the benefit of the people residing in these annexed districts and who have been intentional misinformed by statements of half-truths, whole falsehoods and unwarranted conclusions drawn therefrom the foregoing indisputable facts are given. Respectfully,
RELL G. ALLEN.

Statisticians Fizzle

STATISTICIANS HAVE WHITTLED up carloads of pencils and consumed tons of paper on making estimates on everything under the sun, and many things above it. They have made a multiplication table for Belgian hares; they know to a penny-weight the amount of breakfast food eaten in this country every day, and have pictures to show that it looks up like a mountain range, so large that the Rocky Mountains appear like a caterpillar in comparison.

They know how many times a woman combs her hair if she lives to be seventy-two; the energy a sparrow expends in winking its eye, and how that energy, if properly applied, could put life in an engine; they look wisely over their glasses with figures concerning the flapping of a butterfly's wings, and they have the energy you put in your walk from the cradle to the grave reduced to so many pounds of pressure, to watts, or cubic feet, or something else equally wise. All this they do, and know, and more, but there is one thing no statistician ever dared to juggle with:

The number and manner of opportunities life offers a man for making a fool of himself.

They will approach a mountain or a sea with pencil and paper and without temerity; they fear nothing in their marvelous skill with bunching numerals and calling them facts, but no one has ever dared estimate life's opportunities for being a fool. They are so numerous that no man is ever without them. He can't plan his days and nights to eliminate them; they attack him from behind, march by his side, and lie in wait for him.

They are the mountains in his life, and he mistakes his strength and calls them mole hills.

He is not afraid of them, and seeks them out, and falls before them, and then, marvel of all marvels, he dares, after picking himself up, to jeer at others who are on the ground.

That is the marvel of it: That any man is so sure of himself he can laugh at others, for, if he resisted yesterday, to-day is not told, and there is a long procession of tomorrows, each bearing a few joys, a few sorrows, a little work and a little pain, AND a thousand opportunities for being a fool.

He may not have fallen, but he walks on slippery places, and will not be in position to laugh at the weaknesses of others till his own story is told, and then, if the next world is an improvement on this, he will not have the desire.

He is so weak, if temptation quit pursuing him he would turn around and pursue it.

He is so conceited he will boast it takes a headlight to attract him, and make that boast while buzzing moth-like around the poorest and cheapest of tallow candles.

But all the buzzing and boasting are forgiven if he has charity; if he looks at those who have fallen as so many danger marks, and watches his own feet more carefully; if he remembers that they are as strong as he and some are stronger, and that the weakest men are not always found among those lying flat on their backs. They met the opportunity for being a fool that particularly appealed. Watch how you step; there the opportunity that will particularly appeal to you may be waiting for you at the next bend in the road.

It will not be the worst thing that could happen you if you fell; the worst thing that could happen you is to fall and learn no lesson of charity from the experience.

Spanish Steak

Take a flank of steak. Cut off all the fat and fry it brown in plenty of butter, lift out and put in a baking pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and fry a sliced onion brown in the butter remaining in the frying pan. Spread onions over the steak and cover it with can of tomatoes, juice and all. Cover and bake an hour in a slow oven, basting frequently. Make gravy of drippings remaining in the pan and serve piping hot.

Corn Bread

One cup of cornmeal, one cup of flour, one cup of sweet milk, two tablespoons of melted butter, two tablespoons of sugar, two eggs, one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt.

Molasses Pie

One cup of molasses, one egg, two tablespoons of flour, one tablespoon of butter. Bake with one crust.

A DEAR SONGSTER.

The braw Scot laddie has come to London town, and he married a beautiful and talented girl. Not long after the honeymoon the Scotsman paid a flying visit to his native heather to see his old bachelor uncle.

"Weel, Tammas," was the older man's greeting, "so ye've gotten a wife. And what can she do, laddie?"

"Do?" echoed Tammas.

"Yes, do!" repeated his uncle, firmly. "Can she sew on your buttons an' mak' your parritch an' your scones?"

"Oh, no she doesn't know how to do those things!" said Tammas. "But she has the loveliest voice that ever you heard. She's a grand singer."

"Singer!" cried the uncle scornfully. "Hoots, laddie! Couldna ye buy a canary cheap in Lunnnon?"

HUMOROUS.

He was a raw recruit, just enrolled in a crack cavalry regiment, and paying his first visit to the riding school. "Ere's yer 'orse," said the instructor.

The recruit advanced, took the bridle gingerly, and examined his mount with great care.

"What's it got this strap around it for?" he asked, pointing to the girth.

"Well," explained the instructor, solemnly, "you see, all our 'orses ave a keen sense of 'umor, an' as they sometimes 'ave sudden fits of laughter when they see the recruits, we put bands round 'em to keep 'em from burstin' their sides!"

What Does Your Aura Reveal?

THE JOY IN A joke on Man is uncertain, for the reason that Man is so covered with the thick coating of conceit, the joke never penetrates to his consciousness. It is like shooting an arrow at a rock wall.

Science shot an arrow at this rock wall in a recent discovery of Dr. Walker J. Kilner, for years at the head of the X-ray work in London's greatest hospital, but the rock wall will never find it out, and it is this rock wall of assurance and self-conceit with which Man surrounds himself that delays his education.

Dr. Kilner discovered the aura, a sort of halo that floats down from the head and outlines the entire body. You may not know it, but you have one; every one has one, and this aura tells to the scientist many things the person it envelops would have kept secret. It tells the age, the temperament and the physical condition by its shape and color, and its size denotes the intellect.

"Very small auras," said Dr. Kilner, "indicate very small intellects, and the aura of woman is invariably larger than the aura of man. The smallest auras I have seen attend the body of man."

It will avail nothing to tell the man who reads that statement to read it again. The point to the discovery, that women have greater intellects than men, could never get through that rock wall. It is a joke on him on his father, his grandfather and all his forefathers, but they will never know it. They are blind to all discoveries of a woman's superiority to man, and this blindness is a sort of heirloom which every father has handed down to his son.

Many years ago, when men and women dwelt in caves, a man swung his club through the air and declared he was the superior being, and as he had the superior brute strength, the women cowed a little lower in their corners of the cave and made no dispute.

Some thousands of years later, man discovered that he had a brain, and he devoted much time to its development while the women of his family did the work in the fields, and he again made the claim of superiority, and the women, stupefied by generations of burden-bearing, didn't know enough to doubt him.

Some haven't learned enough to doubt him yet, and in this day and generation look to man as the superior sex; they are the direct descendants of the woman who covered in the cave, the true daughters of the woman who worked like a dumb brute in the field.

It is the woman who looks dumbly at man, seeing in him a glorified being, who will carry all the problems of life to a successful solution, who will receive the greatest benefit from this discovery of Dr. Kilner.

With a little chemical screen before her eyes, she will look at the man whom she thought a giant of intellect, and see an aura so small it wouldn't make a lining for a pigmy's hat.

She will see as he really is the man who thought he was so great his vest would make the Lord an overcoat. She will discover with this chemical screen that if she trusts her future interest and her progress to a man with an aura so small he couldn't sit down in it without tearing it, she is going back to the plough in the fields.

She will discover by using her chemical screen from day to day and making comparisons, that man's aura is shrinking like a flannel union suit, and woman's aura is growing larger.

There are also many surprising discoveries awaiting her regarding a man's temperament, his age and his physical condition, not one of which he would have her know if he could prevent.

When chemical screens become as common articles of merchandise as eye glasses or lorgnettes, the education of the woman who trusts the affairs of the nation and home blindly to man, because he is man, will be materially hastened.

Little Turkeys

Take pork tenderloins and cut lengthwise through the middle, being careful not to cut in half; fill with dressing you would use for turkey; sew or pin together with toothpicks; bake for twenty minutes in a pan in which there is enough water to cover the bottom when baked. Make a gravy of water left in pan. Nice to add strip of bacon over top.

Soft Ginger Bread

One cup of molasses, four tablespoons of melted butter, one teaspoon of soda, one cup of warm water, two cups of flour, one teaspoonful each of ginger and cinnamon. Add two well beaten eggs the last things before baking.

PEACH DESSERT—Take six ripe, juicy peaches, pare and stone; insert in place of each pit six chopped almonds, one maraschino cherry, one teaspoonful of maraschino liquid. Cover outside of peaches closely and evenly with grated coconut; chill thoroughly and serve with rich cream.

The Ancient Cannibal.

It is an ancient cannibal; He smiles a happy smile, A missionary sleek and fat Has landed on the isle.

"And hast thou met dear Brother Jones Who came here some time past?" The cannibal he smole a smile And coolly said, "We hast."

"And didst thou treat him well?" he said, "And take him to your midst?" The cannibal he smacked his lips And coolly said, "We didst."

"Please, mamma," said little Jack, "let me wake the baby. I want to see if she can cry loud enough to drown the noise of my new drum."

Mortality Fore and Aft

WHEN JESUS CHRIST was crucified there was a thief hung upon each side of him. Somewhere I remember to have read that this is a good sample of what the world is always doing, to wit: Killing two kinds of persons, those who are ahead of it and those who are behind it, in the moral procession.

This seems to be true. Two varieties of people go to jail, John Bunyan and Jesse James. We note two sorts of disturbers, Owen Lovejoy and the chicken thief. We hang John Brown and the murderer of McKinley.

Public opinion is a great thing. The current standing of morality is a queer thing. As we look back over history we can see how it has been rising constantly. There was when it was so sin to own a slave, to keep several assistant wives, to flog one's wife, to hang a man for stealing a ham, and to burn a young lady alive because she did not believe the accepted creed. We have outlived these stages. We have reached another, and, we think, a higher plane. But we are still intolerant of all who do not keep step.

A man commits a crime, say murder, or theft, or forgery, or burglary. That means he is away behind the moral status of society. So we lock him up, or take his life.

Another man is ahead of our common position. We call him a socialist, or a philosophical anarchist, or a single taxer, or a heretic. In any case he doesn't belong. He has separated himself from the general mass. He has moved out alone, or with a few wild companions. Of course, we do not burn him, nor crucify him, nor torture him. That is no longer the style. But we do things to him none the less, in subtler ways. We are as cruel as we can be without offending our modern sensitiveness to causing a disturbance. We quietly freeze him out of the club, look him out of the church, hint him out of the family and back him off the earth as delicately as we can, without getting into a scuffle.

The truth, then, is if you want to belong you must keep step, morally speaking. Society, your fellowman, does not ask that you be right, but just as right as they are. If you are below the level of prevalent morality, you go to the calaboose; if you are above it, you go to the social cold storage room.

If you want success, and to get on, and to be popular, and to get elected, you must be expert in averages. Great political leaders do not follow their personal convictions, but their class convictions, unless they have succeeded in submerging the former into the latter. Those who have a reputation for great sanctity are those who have been able to substitute for their own personal feelings of the feelings of the religious world of their time and place.

A man should therefore open his eyes. No man, said the greatest of teachers, will build a house or go to war without first sitting down and counting the cost. There are two distinct, irreconcilable standards of morality: that which is generally accepted and your own. On the one hand the zeitgeist, on the other the individual human spirit. One cannot serve two masters. One must choose.

Generally speaking, I agree with the common run of parsons and politicians, to wit: That as most of us have not sense enough and strength enough to stand alone, it is better to come in, accept the standards and ideas of those about us, and be comfortable, and get elected. It's safer, especially if you are timid. And it's much more profitable. Your organization will look after you, in this life and in the next.

But here's my hand to the lone-some! There are those who simply cannot conform. For some reason the force of individualism within them is too powerful. The main traveled road is sunny, and there's lots of company, but they cannot resist the lure of the Lone Trail. So they "kiss their love goodbye." God knows what will become of them, whether they will be tramps or Tolstoys, whether more akin to Him on the middle cross or to them on the side crosses.

Yet, somehow, oh, most respectable fellow members, the hope of the world, as its danger, lies among those we blackball. Outside the gates, among the thieves, among the lepers is the Saviour.

Chicken Pie

Cut up chicken; place in hot water enough to cover, as it boils away add more, so as to have enough for the pie and for plenty of gravy to serve with it, and boil until tender. Line the sides of a pan with a rich biscuit dough a quarter of an inch thick, then fill with the chicken and a thick gravy well seasoned with salt, pepper, and butter. Lay a few pieces of bacon in. Cover with a crust and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Veal Birds

One pound of veal, sliced thin and pounded flat on meat board, cut into eight or nine pieces the same size. After spreading with butter, fill each piece with dressing made as follows: One egg, pepper and salt, a little onion, and one cupful of breadcrumbs; pin together with toothpicks; fry in lard and butter a nice brown, then nearly cover with fresh milk and let simmer three-quarters of an hour. Serve hot or cold.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"Art and business have nothing in common," said the idealist. "Oh, I don't know about that," replied Mr. Cumrox. "The value of a painting, like the value of a check, depends a great deal on whose name is at the bottom of it."—Washington Star.

YALE'S WEAKNESS ON PASSES

Coaches Think Eleven Needs More Drilling on That Play—Open Style to Get Trial.

The work of the Yale football squad thus far has convinced the coaches that the team's weak point this year is likely to lie in a failure to make the most of the open style of play.

The team has failed lamentably in oft-repeated attempts to gain ground by the use of the forward pass.

In the Wesleyan game, the visitors had no trouble each time in intercepting the attempted pass and breaking up the play. In that game Yale also tried to use the on-side kick without success.

While the natural thing for Yale to do might be to abandon the attempt at an open game, which never has proved of great value here, the coaches instead have determined to go ahead and try to develop the new football to the fullest extent.

UMPIRES TAKE OUT POLICIES

Venezuelan Arbiters Guard Against All Accidents, Says Armando Marsans, Cincinnati Outfielder.

In Venezuela, according to Armando Marsans, the Cincinnati outfielder, who has relatives there, the people are just as wild over baseball as in America or Cuba. The umpires down there, says Armando, are crafty. Before every game they take out accident insurance policies. The most violent rooters in Venezuela are the president and treasurer of the local insurance companies and they take no chances. They guard and protect the umpires, defending them against the crowds and, at the same time, preventing any sudden demand upon their own treasures.

"I fail to understand the American spich," complains Senor Almeida, the Mexican player on the Cincinnati team. "Senor McLean he say to me de ozer day dat I am full of prunes. Why he mak' such accusat', when he eat wis me an' know perfectly well I have not even touched one prune!"
